english COURSE

Our training courses offer the opportunity to learn technical-professional English, to those professionals who appreciate a carefully structured program that helps them use English in a wide range of work activities. Students are assigned linguistic tasks that directly concern their professional life, whether in law, information technology, medicine, science, engineering, oil&gas, architecture, aviation, aeronautics, tourism and hospitality, journalism and others.

In essence, our courses combine the knowledge of the subject possessed by the student with his need for greater competence. Our teachers, specially selected for individual lessons or group lessons, have the knowledge and teaching skills relevant to the area of interest of the student. These courses will help participants reach an appropriate level of English that they can use in their careers.

EU project

Through specific case studies and exercises on key tools related to project design and management, this interactive training offers a complete knowledge of the essential techniques for successful management, oriented to the economic results of EU projects.

Our courses are structured to help professionals understand the complexities of EU funding plans and ensure the success of the project. Our course covers all phases of an EU project. More specifically, during the training, participants learn how to find EU funding opportunities, how to carry out a project and how to write a project proposal.
